REGATAS

Baltimore and Washington Bidding for Events.

AFTER MIDDLE STATES

Potomac River Association Wants It Again-Patapsco Navy Seeks National Association Events.

There is a great likelihood that both Baltimore and Washington will have regattas next summer.

For some time there have been reorts affoat that the two cities were bidding against each other for the classic National Regetta, which is usually held in the last week of July or the first week in August. But this is a mis-

Was Great Success.

Two years ago under the auspices of the Potomac River Association the Mid-dle States regatta was held here, and it was such a pronounced success that many of the visiting oarsmen, including President John O'Regan, of the Middle States. Association, expressed the hope that the regatta would be again held on the Potomac within a short time. Last year the Potomac tegatta was revived, in order that Washingtonians might enjoy a series of boat races, but as the affair was hardly the success expected, so far as entries went, rae officers of the Potomac Club have decided to put in a bid for the Middle States. As there is no dangerous rival in the field, it seems as though this city will surely laifd the event for next Labor Day.

A meeting of the executive committee of the association to be held at the Pabst Hotel in New York will be attended by Claude R. Zappone as Washington's representative. Mr. Zappone is the delegate for the whole South on the executive committee of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen and is quite confident that he will be able to get the officers of the governing board of the Middle States Association to give the Middle States Association to give the officers of the governing board of the Middle States Association to give the officers of the potomac Boat Club.

Baltimore Bids High. The best regatta of all is that given annually by the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, and it is this regatta that Baltimore is attempting to get.

For some years there was an open breach between the Arundel and Ariel Clubs of Baltimore, but last summer the differences were patched up and a dual regarta was held. This year the rowing clubs have come together and organized the Patapsco Navy, and have decided to put in a bid for the national regatta. It has been seven years since Baltimoreans have seen good aquatic sport, but if the promoters of the navy are successful in getting the National the city will have the best that the country can offer in the way of regattas. The annual meeting of the executive committee of the National Association will be held at the Murray Hill Hotel in New York on the evening of March 18, and it will then be decided where the regatta will be held. Worcester, and probably Philadelphia, will have delegates at the meeting to try to get the affair for their respective cities. a that Baltimore is attempting to get. delegates at the meeting to try to the affair for their respective cities, the chances at present seem in favor
